

People Places

• Jim Benjamin of Stamford has been named vice president of maintenance and construction at The Property Group of Connecticut.

Benjamin has held several management and consultant positions with IBM, Ernst & Young, Calder Corp. and Duty Free International. Benjamin earned a master's degree in business administration from the University of Connecticut.

Sullivan

The company has also named Stamford resident John Sullivan as director of operations.

Sullivan was director of customers service and senior management adviser at Bloomington, where he developed customer service training and incentive programs.

Benjamin

The Property Group is a full-service real estate asset management company serving commercial and residential properties in Fairfield county.

• Jason Miller has been named vice president of advertising sales for Outdoor Life Network, eastern region, in Stamford.

Miller previously served as director of advertising sales at the company. Before that, he worked in sales and research at E! Entertainment Television and Nostalgia TV.

Miller graduated from Ithaca College with a bachelor's degree in business management.

Outdoor Life Network is a 24-hour cable television network that covers outdoor adventure sports and outdoor leisure recreation.

• Clare DeNicola has been named senior vice president of network solutions and sales at IVANS Inc. in Greenwich. She will oversee the management of the company's newly created networking solutions division that will help insurance organizations build reliable network designs.

DeNicola was vice president of sales at IVANS, where she expanded the company's role with the customer base to include new network technologies and software solutions.

DeNicola graduated from Lehigh University and has a master's degree in business administration from Fordham University.

IVANS Networking, a business unit of IVANS, works in partnership with AT&T to provide data networks to insurance companies throughout the United States.

• Norwalk Community College has received a silver entry level Connecticut Quality Improvement Award 2002 Innovation prize for its role as a regional Cisco Systems Academy.

NCC has collaborated with Cisco Systems Inc. to develop a series of four courses that provides students with the scholastic foundation to design, build and maintain computer networks capable of supporting national and global organizations.

CQIA recognizes Connecticut organizations that excel in managing quality improvement for business success and growth.

— Amy Watters

People & Places reports on new businesses, company relocations, awards, job changes and special appointments. Information must be submitted on company letterhead to: People & Places, The Advocate and Greenwich Time, Box 9307, Stamford, CT 06904-9307, or e-mailed to business@scni.com. Photographs cannot be returned. We reserve the right to edit or reject submissions.