

BUSINESS with THE WALL STREET JOURNAL SUNDAY.

Sunday
August 12, 2001

ERC Dataplus gets quality award

Connecticut Quality Improvement Award examiners have chosen ERC Dataplus Inc. in Norwalk as a silver winner of its entry-level Connecticut Innovation Prize.

ERC received the award for its LDM Development Management System, which allows clients to coordinate the delivery and scheduling of the components of corporate development programs.

The LDM system is a Web site.

CT Business Magazine August 2000

• The Advocate, Thursday, June 20, 2002

Advantage garners Conn. quality award

Advantage Human Resourcing, a Norwalk-based provider of professional and support-level workers, will receive a silver level Connecticut Quality Improvement Award innovation prize for TalentLink, its proprietary information management system.

SCAVENGER HUNT
DRAWING: Judith Baxter (L) owner of Deja Vu in Ridgefield, draws the name of a lucky winner in the second annual Antique and Collectible Scavenger Hunt. Catherine Brashich, executive director for The Housatonic Valley Tourism District, announced the winner. The Scavenger Hunt was sponsored by the Housatonic Valley Tourism District, which will receive a silver Connecticut Innovation Prize from the Connecticut Quality Improvement Partnership for the successful event.

