Health Net wins innovation award

SHELTON — Health Net of the Northeast has won a 2002 Innovation prize as part of this year's Connecticut Quality Improvement Award program, which will be held Thursday at the Southbury Hilton.

Health Net is receiving a silver level award at the event. It was selected from a field of 110 applicants for awards.

Health Net is a Shelton-based health insurance company with more than 1.1 million members in Connecticut and three other states.
